Title: Wisp Conference

Author: Cear Dallben

Wisp One: Such excellent specimens that Xorinia could use them for research.

Wisp Two: Where did these specimens come from?

Wisp One: I was at the edge of the woods and I saw a man wearing black robes approach Wisp Two: A human?

Wisp One: Yes he held aloft a runes scepter and said words in the Akalabethian tongue.

Wisp Two: Do you suppose it was one of the scepters of the last age?

Wisp One: I do not know but he spoke the power words of summoning and the sea began to churn

Wisp Two: So he was a summoner?

Wisp One: Yes as the summoner spoke the ground cracked violently and the sea rolled

Wisp Two: He called an earthquake?

Wisp One: The earthquake thrust the crystals up from the sea bed and then the man gathered them

Wisp Two: Which ones did he gather?

Wisp One: He only took the rarest and most potent crystals and he wrapped them up carefully.

Wisp Two: I wonder who he is. Was the traveler from this plane or a different one?

Wisp One: He was a human man, he had the look of a wizard and the crystals are priceless.

Wisp Two: Priceless, yes
I agree with you.
Wisp One: If only we had the means to take them for ourselves.
